

What is claimed is:

1. A LED spotlight (type I) including a lampshell and a light-collecting cover, wherein the cover has its bottom provided with an aperture to engage with a LED, in which a convex being
5 formed in the aperture and the side of the cover being a paraboloid; the light-collecting cover being capable of reflecting and concentrating the light emitted from the LED to a same direction.
2. A LED spotlight (type I) as claimed in claim 1, wherein a
10 connecting ring is provided in the lampshell to elastically engage with the light-collecting cover.
3. A LED spotlight (type I) as claimed in claim 1, wherein a cap is assembled on the lampshell to hold the top of the cover.
4. A LED spotlight (type I) as claimed in claim 1, wherein the 15 lampshell is provided with several vents.